

Welcome to the Vance minute. I'm Joe B. Wiles with the Public Affairs Office...

Chief Master Sgt. of the Air Force James Cody visited Team Vance this past week.

Chief Cody, the seventeenth person to hold the highest enlisted rank in the Air Force, hosted an "All Call," during his visit. Vance Airmen heard the latest developments in issues that impact both their careers and the lives of their families.

Over the course of his two day visit, the chief met with Vance Airmen, their spouses, contractors and government civilians during lunch and while touring offices and work places.

Chief Cody, and his wife, retired Chief Master Sgt. Athena Cody, met with Enid civic leaders during a dinner held Tuesday night at the Event Center.

Chief Cody began his Air Force career as an Air Traffic Controller at Ramstein Air Base, Germany in 1985.

Over the past almost 30 years, he has served around the world, including assignments to South Korea, Turkey, Saudi Arabia, Texas, Virginia, California, Florida, and now, the Pentagon in Washington D.C.

That's your Vance Minute...have a great Air Force day.
